

U.S. Women's Open

Sunday, July 9, 2023

Pebble Beach, California, USA

Pebble Beach Golf Links

So Yeon Ryu

Quick Quotes

Q. Can you talk about playing in the 2015 U.S. Women's Open in Pennsylvania and what are your memories of it?

SO YEON RYU: Actually I remember we had a lot of rain before we start the tournament, so I think the golf course just got a little soft. I think we were kind of lucky and unlucky to have that kind of rain because the greens were softer, so it was a little easier to play, but at the same time the golf course was a little longer.

I think it's going to be a little different if we are going to have decent weather, not like wet golf course.

Q. You had a good result there, so is it a course that fits your eye?

SO YEON RYU: Yeah, I remember that the greens were quite slopy and that I had to deal with a lot of speed control putts. I definitely felt like there was a lot of challenge of speed control on the putting green.

I think I had a lot of fun, too, shaping the shots on the golf course, as well.

Q. Do you remember the fans, how many fans there were?

SO YEON RYU: It was incredible, as well, and I'm sure it's going to be even bigger next year.

FastScripts by ASAP Sports