Golf Channel Interview

Q. They were just talking about how it was tied at 2 now after these morning matches. When you saw you guys were down two, how much emphasis did you put on this particular point to make sure it was tied up after these morning matches?

JAKE BOLTON: I didn't really give it much thought to be honest. I think it was just all about focusing, making sure we do get our point, regardless of what's happened in front. Obviously our point is hugely important now, so...

Q. How difficult was it being an alternate coming in, coming out and then ended up being able to play?

ANGUS FLANAGAN: Yeah, it was fun. It was kind of nice to know that we could play with Jake and everything. Jake and I's game are great with each other. He hits hits it pretty straight, same with me, and putts it great, so it was good, though.

Q. You guys were the underdogs coming in and here you are at 2-2. Does that change anything at all going into the afternoon singles for you guys or does it just build the confidence as you go through these matches?

JAKE BOLTON: I don't think so. I think the guys have a lot of self-belief, and I don't see why that should change. We're all good players, and we all deserve to be here, so we're going to give it our best shot.
