

Trust Golf Women's Scottish Open

Saturday, July 30, 2022

Troon, Scotland, UK

Dundonald Links

Celine Boutier

Quick Quotes

Q. Very, very well-played out there, a round of 5-under, pretty much everything seems to be clicking this week. Obviously disappointment last week but you seem to be saving it all for this week. Tell me about your round.

CELINE BOUTIER: Yeah it was a very solid day. I started the front pretty solid and that helped me relax a little bit. The conditions were more windy and a little bit tougher I would say so it was really good to get a good start and stayed very patient. Had a lot of opportunities, and took advantage of some of them.

Q. Gleneagles is a very different course but you've played some fantastic golf there in Scotland, and you're playing fantastic golf again in Scotland. What is it about Scotland that you think brings out the best in you?

CELINE BOUTIER: I really like links golf and playing in windy conditions. I feel like my ball flight is pretty low, and so I feel like I never really have trouble keeping it down, which is an advantage here because the ball doesn't get affected as much.

And I had some good memories, too, of playing well in the past, so that's always helpful.

Q. You know what it takes to win on the LET and obviously elsewhere as well. Heading into the final day, you've got a great chance. But are you actually taking the expectations off yourself heading into tomorrow?

CELINE BOUTIER: Yeah, I think so. I think what I've learned of being in this position in the past is that really anything can happen, whether you have the lead or not. Try to not get too far ahead of yourself and focus on what you can control which is really each shot at a time.

Q. What part of your game was working well?

CELINE BOUTIER: Yeah, I think my long game has been very solid but I've definitely made a lot of putts this week, the past few days, especially. I feel like that's definitely helped me.

FastScripts by ASAP Sports