Q. Okay, here with Mo after the conclusion of the Honda LPGA Thailand. Just talk about what this week has meant for you.

MORIYA JUTANUGARN: Of course it's always mean a lot for all the Thai players. Like we always get really good support from the fans, and definitely like family and some friend come. It's always been one the really, really fun week.

Q. Talk about the emotions of today, too, as you were going through and playing.

MORIYA JUTANUGARN: I kind of felt like it's one of the day that kind of like up-and-down. You know, like things not always like being in the way this year that you wanted to, but it wasn't a bad day.

It's still a pretty good day and like one of the pretty solid day. I'm pretty happy with that.

Q. What does this do for your confidence moving forward? Obviously played well in the past. To start the season like this with a finish like this, what does that mean?

MORIYA JUTANUGARN: Of course mean a lot. Like playing good in front of the Thai fans in the home country and also like trying to bring a lot of confidence from this week. Like good things, like seeing some putts going in, some good shots, it's always help.
