THE MODERATOR: I'm here with Jennifer Chang and Karen Chung. Great round today, ladies. How do you think you guys complemented each other's games out there?

JENNIFER CHANG: I feel like our games are very similar, very consistent off the tee, really good with our iron play, and then also just holing putts when we need to. So I feel like we complement each other really well, and it's been good so far the last few days.

KAREN CHUNG: That's for sure. We're super bubbly too, so I think that helps the vibe on the golf course.

THE MODERATOR: Was there anything you were trying to do today compared to yesterday's round with the different formats?

JENNIFER CHANG: I think with the best-ball format you can be a little more aggressive knowing you have two chances making birdie or better. So if I parred, Karen would one up and just make birdie and vice versa. If we had a safe par, it's the same way. I think we played really well.

THE MODERATOR: What have you enjoyed most about the team format too being here in Midland, Michigan, with tomorrow too having a different format again? What have you enjoyed most about the tournament?

KAREN CHUNG: This tournament is always so different compared to the other ones since you have a partner, and she actually went to USC too, and I went to SC too, so I met her here for the first time this week, but it's been great, and it's always so much fun. Yeah, it's a different kind of golf.

THE MODERATOR: Good luck tomorrow.
