Minjee Lee

Quick Quotes

Q. Just take me through what this moving day was like for you.

MINJEE LEE: It didn't really feel too much like a moving day. But I feel like the wind was still a little bit tricky today. I probably didn't hole as many putts as I wanted. Probably a little more misreads here and there.

But, I mean, I finished with 1-under and kind of felt like I wasn't really making too much of a move. But hopefully tomorrow I can string together a few more birdies.

Q. How did you reset after the two bogeys that you had with that birdie slightly thereafter?

MINJEE LEE: Yeah, I mean, I had two soft bogeys, and the par-5 you can get on for two. So I hit hybrid on the green and just gave myself an opportunity for eagle, which was nice, and made birdie there. And would have liked to make birdie on 18, but it's kind of hard to read the break there because of the shade.

So, yeah, I mean, I hit a good shot in and hit a good putt as well.

Q. I know you've just talked about feeling your confidence after the Kroger Queen City win, but then after finding more of your game in China, how will you use the last two events to your advantage tomorrow in the final day?

MINJEE LEE: Yeah, I mean, the whole year I didn't really feel like my game was too far away. But it was like I had two good rounds and two average rounds. So it was like getting everything together was a little bit harder for the first, I don't know, three quarters of the year, I guess.

And obviously Kroger, and I think that really helped me with my confidence and just a little bit more trust in my game, my putting, and pretty much all aspects of my game. So I think that really helped and kind of, I don't know -- I feel like I'm doing well now, but I feel like it wasn't really that far away. So it doesn't really feel like I've improved like a ton or anything like that.

Q. It's just everything is clicking?

MINJEE LEE: Yeah, clicking a little better, yeah.

Q. What will you work on heading into tomorrow? Is there anything you that you'll focus on, knowing that you talked about making sure to precisely read those greens and everything like that? Is that what you'll focus on in tomorrow's final round?

MINJEE LEE: Probably. Yeah. I feel like I'm still striking it really well. Been driving it well. You know, I probably didn't hit it as close today. So I had a bit, a few longer putts. So maybe just hit a couple longer putts, try and get the speed and have a fresh mind going into tomorrow.
