Quick Quotes

Q. Nice round today. 5-under, 67 over here on the Crossing course. What did you like about the course on this side that helped you shoot so low?

NA RIN AN: I think I was able to score better today. I felt like I was shooting better. I was hitting better shots today and my putts also worked a lot better.

Q. You had a really good par save on the last hole. How key is short game around these two golf courses?

NA RIN AN: So the grass here is bermuda grass, and it is a type of grass that you are really not able to experience in it Korea, so I think one's ability to adjust well would really be key in shooting a low score.

Q. Awesome. You played both courses; fired low numbers on both of them. How confident are you two rounds into this eight-round marathon?

NA RIN AN: I would say that my confidence level is pretty high, but I would still like to really focus on my game and play the next rounds well as well.

Q. What did your prep work look like coming into these eight rounds over two weeks?

NA RIN AN: I have actually been prepping all season. I've been playing a lot tournaments and I've been trying to adjust to each different -- each week, and I think that's really helped.

Q. I mean, you've given yourself a cushion playing so well the last couple days. You're right up at the top of the leaderboard. Does it feel good to have some breathing room?

NA RIN AN: It's only been two days, so I think it's a little early to say that I'm safe. So I would really like to focus on the next upcoming rounds.

Q. What's your game plan for those next two rounds?

NA RIN AN: Based on the last two rounds I feel like I know how the courses play, and I would like to use that as a basis in order to play better for the next rounds.
