Quick Quotes

Q. Eight rounds of golf is always a grind; it's grueling. Just to have secured your tour card for next year after some amazing golf over the past couple days, how are you feeling?

GEMMA DRYBURGH: Yes, very happy and relieved. It was, like you said, a long two weeks, so just more mentally draining than anything. Glad to be done and happy with how I played.

Q. I know I think yesterday was a solid round for you that I feel like really leapt you up the leaderboard. Is that when you turned it on you want to say during this eight-round process?

GEMMA DRYBURGH: Yeah, well, last round last week was really good. I had a 65, so that spurred me up the leaderboard as well. Yeah, yesterday's 2-under kind of got me in a nice position for today, so it was a bit more relaxed.

Q. What's that like for you? You've been in this situation before. Just to be able to come back, play some good golf, to your tour card for next year? What are some of the emotions you've got?

GEMMA DRYBURGH: Yeah, been waiting a couple years for this because I missed it in 2019 I think it was and didn't have Q-School last year, so kind of been playing on limited status for the last two years.

It's nice to get that full card again and hopefully get in some good events next year.

Q. Of course your family with you supporting you. Does that make it sweeter?

GEMMA DRYBURGH: Yes, definitely. Got mom and dad here and my caddie's partner as well is here. Nice to have the support and have them here as well to celebrate.
