Q. Here with Jin Young Ko, another day at the office for. Take me through today's round.

JIN YOUNG KO: Well, today was tough round to me. I had a lot of chance for birdie. I missed a lot of putt today.

The greens are really, really, really tricky, but I had -- I'm trying to be patient on the course.

And, well, under par not bad, but not good. But, yeah, I had strong finish today.

Q. You did. You had those three birdies on Nos. 4, 9, and 16, 16 with the tee moved up, I believe. What was 16 like for you?

JIN YOUNG KO: I got 5-wood No. 16. Hit it really good and a little short, five meter short, but I had two-putt so I made birdie.

Q. What will it take tomorrow do you think to be able to break through this kind of leaderboard?

JIN YOUNG KO: Well, if my putting will be better than last three days will be easy to hit 5-under or 6-under.

So I have chance for tomorrow, and I will have good patient and good thinking like positive things. Looking forward.

Q. One more from me. When you talk about improving your putting, will you practice a little bit more tonight or is it more of a morning thing?

JIN YOUNG KO: No, just -- no, I'm not going to the putting green. But I need to practice for putting, but I don't want to go.

Q. Probably tomorrow.

JIN YOUNG KO: Yeah, tomorrow morning, yeah.
