Quick Quotes

Q. Here with Andrea Lee. Another day, another high Andrea Lee finish. Really, really good week here in Cincinnati; 13-under overall. Just evaluate your week.

ANDREA LEE: Yeah, solid. I stayed really patient out there. I think it was definitely tougher yesterday and today, although Ally is currently showing otherwise.

Yeah, just really proud of the way I hung in there and just tried to minimize as many mistakes as possible. Just made a lot of pars and then the birdies came along the way.

Q. How do you stay patient? Obviously we've been playing in wet conditions all week. How have you maintained the patience? It's a grind.

ANDREA LEE: Yeah, definitely a grind. Just staying within the moment and going through the process of actually hitting every shot.

Yeah, I think just having a calm mindset, knowing that the good shots are going to come, and just trying to save everything whenever I got out of position.

So just playing really steady golf.

Q. Feel like I talked to you a lot this season. As we look ahead to the end of the year, there are only a few events left, a few left stateside. If you looked at what was going to happen at the end of the year in September in January, would you have expected everything you've been able to accomplish? I know you're still looking for a win, but...

ANDREA LEE: Definitely not. I didn't see myself in this position in January. I know I said this in a lot of interviews, but, yeah, it's just been a grind.

I'm really thankful to even be in this position, and having a few top 10 finishes under my belt now, couple top 15s at majors, it's been a really great year for me.

Hopefully these next several events I can maybe inch a little bit closer to that first win.

Q. What've those events, those Top 10s, top 15s, done for your confidence as you look ahead to the rest of the year?

ANDREA LEE: Yeah, huge confidence booster. I think my game is in a really good position and I'm playing really solid golf, so just trying to keep that momentum and just play the golf that I always know how to play at the next few events.
