Q. Ingrid confirmed it's her career low round in relation to par; 63 today. Five back to begin the round. What was the game plan coming into the round today?

INGRID LINDBLAD: I kind of actually texted my old head coach at LSU Garret Runion, and he said, just go out with the same game plan as yesterday.

I kind of -- my putter was pretty hot. I had made a lot of putts to begin with, so tried to just have the same game plan, hit the same shots as yesterday.

Obviously had couple more putts drop today.

Q. Rookie out here this season on the LPGA Tour. This is just your fourth start. What clicked for you here today?

INGRID LINDBLAD: I thought I read the greens really well. It wasn't just like tap-ins for par. It was 10-footers, 17 footers. I read the greens really well. Thought I had good speed on the greens. Really just one putt that ran away from me and I three putted it.

Q. You're just finding your footing in the professional ranks. We know what you achieved as an amateur. What can you lean on from that success that you had here weekend?

INGRID LINDBLAD: I think just that I'm good enough to be out here and just I don't need to do anything different. Just go out and play my own game every day, because after today definitely good enough.
