Q. Obviously you were able to get first impressions during Summer League, but as months have gone on and you spent more time with them, what really impresses you about this group of rookie class here?

JOSH DIX: I would just say the work that they have put in consistently. Bennett, Aday, Otega, even Brooks, we have within here for a while. So just putting in work consistently, and they are getting a lot better, and, yeah.

Q. What does this opportunity mean for you, getting to be on this two-way spot, having the chance to potentially carve out a role with this team?

JOSH DIX: Yeah, it means a lot. It's been a dream of mine since I was young to get this chance, grow every day, get better every day. That's what I'm looking forward to most.

Q. Can you talk about navigating being an undrafted free agent and how you landed in OKC?

JOSH DIX: Yeah, my agent kind of just told me there were some teams interested, and he was just like, OKC has been really interested new, so I thought when I came here for my draft process and talked to all the coaches and you have is it, I felt a genuine connection, like the interest and stuff. So I decided to come here and, yeah, it was a great choice. I love everyone here, all the players and stuff, so yeah.

Q. This is a day, obviously, about asking you guys questions, but what questions have you had for the veterans or coaches about acclimate to go this team dating back to Summer League to now?

JOSH DIX: Yeah, with the season going from 30 games to 82-plus, it's different, you're playing every day and what that day-to-day process looks like.

For me, playing for the Thunder and the Blue, also, what that process looks like.
