Quick Quotes

Q. 12 points to start the Barracuda Championship. Can you give us some thoughts on your day?

SEAN CROCKER: Yeah, it was a good day. Didn't do anything crazy nor too special, just played decent golf. I'll be honest with you, I really have no idea about the format. I was just trying to make some birdies and not make too many bogeys.

Q. You started your day with a bogey but then found your rhythm soon after that.

SEAN CROCKER: I think that was just kind of first-hole PGA TOUR jitters for me because this is honestly my first ever PGA TOUR event ever. So a little bit nervous on that tee shot on the second but we kind of shook it away pretty quickly.

Q. Your thoughts on the surroundings this week; it's an incredible golf course, isn't it.

SEAN CROCKER: It's beautiful. I've come up here a couple of times in the past for U.S. Juniors and tournaments, but it's always beautiful coming up to Tahoe.

Q. Great opportunity this week, as well, as a DP World Tour member, points in our rankings but also the chance for a PGA TOUR card at the end of the week.

SEAN CROCKER: Yeah, it is kind of cool. Obviously playing in Europe now for the past five years, I want to kind of get back over here, but we'll just take it day-by-day and see how the week goes.

Q. You must be delighted to start this tournament given the travel at the start of the week, as well?

SEAN CROCKER: Yeah, a little bit tired, but we get over it. It's kind of part of the job. I'm only 25 so I can't complain about being too tired yet.
