SANDERSON FARMS
CHAMPIONSHIP

Q. Talk about your experience today, including that eagle on 17.

CARL YUAN: Yeah, I mean, obviously I didn't play my great golf, but I really hung in there tough. Just couldn't quit, right? I knew I've got to do something special coming down the stretch on 17. All I was thinking was trying to hole the shot, and fortunately it happened. That was a really cool moment for. I would say inspired is something every golfer should have. There's always hope; never quit. If you've got a shot, the ball can always go in the hole. That was a really cool moment for me.

Q. How do you feel about this final day and how this could help you in that Top 125?

CARL YUAN: I think it's definitely some good momentum going into the next events in the fall. I feel much better with my game, and yeah, when I get confidence going, I can shoot some low scores out here.
