THE MODERATOR: Can you walk us through that match.

ROBERTO QUIROZ: Yeah, I mean, a very tough match that I would say started pretty (distorted audio). I think could have taken advantage of those chances, but he served well.

First game, little uptight. It's just like he was overall more experience than I. I just think that the serve was key during the match.

He got away a lot with the serve, and I think it was a really close match way more than what the results said. Throughout the match I felt way more comfortable when we were playing the rallies, the long rallies. Even coming forward, you know, like overall I think it was a good match for me.

Just a couple of mistakes that he took really advantage of it, and the mistakes he did, there were very few. You know, he's a player who has been around for a while. He's played at the really high level, and I think that was just the difference.
