TOUR CHAMPIONSHIP

A Rolex Series Event

Q. Shane, the DP World Tour has just extended its partnership with DP World right up to 2035. How important is long-term stability and support for the players and the future of the game?

SHANE LOWRY: I think it's amazing. It's amazing when you're part of something that has companies like DP World involved, and to see them put their trust and support in the tour, in our tour, is great. And obviously for all of us out here, but most notably the younger players to have big companies on board and investing in our tour all the time is very, very important.

You know, I'm very happy that they have done it.

Q. You know full well the DP World Tour plays all over the globe. What does it mean for you as a player to compete on such a global schedule?

SHANE LOWRY: Yeah, it's amazing. Look, we're very lucky on the DP World Tour. We get to go and travel to a lot of different places all around the world. We get to go to Asia, India, here in Dubai and experience different cultures and different people, and seeing what the world is all about.

It's a great tour and I love being a part of it and I love playing on it.

... when all is said, we're done.®
