Quick Quotes

MARCO SIMONE
ROME, ITALY

Q. You start your Ryder Cup career tomorrow with your Scandinavian friend in Viktor Hovland. Where are you as far as comfort and confidence heading into tomorrow's matches?

LUDVIG ABERG: Yeah, I think we're in a good spot. We have been playing a little bit together the last couple days. I think anyone who is going to play with Viktor is going to be a happy guy, and so am I. Looking forward to it obviously.

Q. Viktor, not like you need more momentum heading into the Ryder Cup after winning the FedExCup, but you get a hole-in-one on the par-4 today. How important is it that Europeans get out and maybe set the tone for the match? In the first of five sessions, how important is that?

VIKTOR HOVLAND: Our team and with the way the golf course is set up, I think it really suits our games. I think we're looking forward to getting off to a nice start.

We can put some blue on early on the leaderboard and just follow in the trend where the Europeans did in the Solheim Cup and the Junior Ryder Cup earlier today. So I think we've got the momentum.
