Quick Quotes

Q. A 68 after yesterday's 65. Give us your thoughts on that one.

TYRRELL HATTON: I guess a little bit frustrated. At times I rode my luck today. Getting some good bounces to avoid some bunkers, but then yeah, I just feel like I missed so many chances at the same time. It was hard to hole putts out there to be honest.

Q. Three behind but you don't really know where you stand until the stagger unwinds and you've all played the same three courses.

TYRRELL HATTON: A little bit. You kind of hope that over the three days, each course plays pretty similar, and then it's kind of -- then you kind of really know where you're at.

But I mean, playing St Andrews tomorrow, so I think the forecast is similar to today. If that's the case, then there will be birdie opportunities and scoring will be pretty good again.

So yeah hopefully the greens are rolling nice over there and we can hole some putts.

Q. You've shot 67 nine times at St Andrews. So you've played some terrific golf there in the past. How much are you looking forward to going over there and doing the same again?

TYRRELL HATTON: After today, yeah, very much looking forward to getting over there. I feel like out of the three, this has been probably my worst scoring course. And yeah, hopefully I can play well tomorrow and give myself some opportunities.
