Abraham Ancer

Q. Abraham, your driving was fairly accurate today, over 70 per cent fairways hit. How important was that, such a solid start to the Open?

ABRAHAM ANCER: Yeah, absolutely. That's definitely one of my strengths off the tee, being in the fairway, and it's extremely important on this golf course. You have to be very accurate, not only in the fairway, but you've got to hit the correct side of the fairway, too.

I was able to do that for the most part today. It was good off the tee. It could definitely get a little bit better, but I'm not complaining. I just didn't hit it close enough on my second shots. Overall I'm pretty happy with my round.
