

AIG Women's Open

Mixed Zone

Saturday, 2 August 2025

A Lim Kim

Q. So what went well for you today? When everybody was struggling you had a really good round today.

A LIM KIM: My caddie and me focus on ball flight ask what I need, what I want, what I do. It's more simple process. That mean it was good today. (Smiling.)

Q. What was the best part of your game do you think?

A LIM KIM: Trajectory control. Ball control is more important this week and good for today.

Q. The struggle, maybe the putting was harder with the wind do you think?

A LIM KIM: Yeah. And today wind direction a little different than first two days. But I love more west wind. Today is the west wind. Yeah, use a lot.

Q. So and then being in contention, 8-under, close to the lead, how comfortable do you feel and how much do you like chasing the leader?

A LIM KIM: So honestly I'm not focused on the leader. I focus on my process and my shot and then my position. That's all. Yeah.

FastScripts by ASAP Sports