Women's Amateur
ASIA PACIFIC

Q. Inez, you've just finished your fifth Women's Amateur Asia Pacific Championship and your best ever result so far. Tell us how you're feeling after the tournament?

INEZ NG: Yeah, played decent this week. I think I hit the ball really good. Just couldn't have that many putts drop.

But I'm happy that my results have been improving since the my very first one. I feel more comfortable at this tournament, so it's a positive tournament overall for me.

Q. Playing a tournament like this, what sort of lessons have you learned heading into the next stage of your career?

INEZ NG: Yeah, I think the biggest lesson is that I can compete with anyone in the world. I think just fine tuning just parts of my game that still needs a little bit of work, and, you know, just giving myself a chance to compete at the highest level.

Q. Have you looked forward to next year at all? Do you know if you'll be playing this next year?

INEZ NG: Yeah, I mean, next year, Royal Wellington is pretty far for me because I have to travel from the U.S., so hopefully I can play it. But, yeah, I'm definitely looking forward to such an awesome venue.
