

Women's Amateur Asia-Pacific Championship

Quick Quotes

Sunday, 9 March 2025

Eunseo Choi

Women's Amateur
ASIA PACIFIC

Q. Eunseo, you've just finished the tournament; best placed New Zealand player as well. Talk us through that final round. A little bit frustrating out there.

EUNSEO CHOI: So as you said, it was quite frustrating, but I am pretty happy with all the pars. The fact that I could have made a couple bogeys along the way but I still hung on and got the par, I'm pretty happy with that.

Missed a couple birdie putts which made me pretty upset, but that's okay. It's just like the mental game. Any putts that was for par that was the same distance as birdie I got it, so I guess it's all the mental part.

Q. Any par saves out there that stand out that you were pretty pleased with yourself to make?

EUNSEO CHOI: No. 16 was a par-4, so I was -- hit it short because I chunked my shot. I had this like massive slope going up the hill to the flag. Decided to hit a putter, because who knows, my chip is going to be worse either way. Hits to six like feet, par save. I was like, yay.

Q. Shame you couldn't get a couple more to drop, but you should be very proud of your week.

EUNSEO CHOI: Thank you.

Q. Looking forward to next year at Royal Wellington?

EUNSEO CHOI: Yes.

Q. Course you played before, is it?

EUNSEO CHOI: Yeah, I have. I love that course.

Q. What's next for you in the next couple months?

EUNSEO CHOI: I've got Augusta coming up.

Q. Of course.

EUNSEO CHOI: Yeah. I'm so excited.

Q. You saved all your birdies for that.

EUNSEO CHOI: Yes. Hopefully.

Q. What are your expectations of that tournament?

EUNSEO CHOI: Firstly I just want to make the cut, because who doesn't want to play on Augusta on the last round, right? I just want to try my best and enjoy the game, as I've done here.

My putting this week has been pretty good, so hopefully I'll take that on to Augusta.

Fastscripts by ASAP Sports...