Quick Quotes

Q. Solid day. I know a four-hour rain delay is always something you just never expect, but at the Dana Open anything is possible. So for you what was this third round like for you?

ALLISEN CORPUZ: Yeah, I mean, I honestly think it was a nice break, especially from the rain. A little longer than I would have wanted. But, no, it was a solid day. I hit it pretty solid today. Kind of the same thing that it's been. So, yeah.

Q. Knowing that anything is possible kind of what's the mindset also as you got ready for tomorrow to be in contention all over again in a second week in a row. I know that can be mentally and physically exhausting. How do you stay kind of on top of it and keep to yourself?

ALLISEN CORPUZ: Yeah, I mean, Linn absolutely lit it up today. I'm hoping the best for her tomorrow. I mean, no one's going to catch up if she plays the way she did today. So, no, just going out there and trying to put up another solid round before I get some rest at home next week. And, yeah, I mean, it's just, I mean, all you can do is control what you're doing. So yeah, just going to go out there and try and shoot a low one tomorrow.

Q. Even just to be almost beside a 59 watch as well, I know a lot of people stay one shot at a time, focus on their own ball. But do you kind of get that good vibe feeling of, oh, someone else is shooting low in my group, I can go out just as aggressively?

ALLISEN CORPUZ: Yeah, definitely. I think the more you see it, the more you can think it and see it happening for yourself. I mean, she's always been a really solid ball-striker. So just really cool to see her hole out on 12 and just birdie streak, yeah, really cool.

Q. For you, a little bit of rest tomorrow going in for this final day, but what does it mean to you and all the work that you put in to not only become a major champion, but to be able to show out the very next week?

ALLISEN CORPUZ: Honestly, I missed the cut here last week. So came into the week with really low expectations. Been playing really solid. Have kind of felt like I've been playing really solid all year long. So it's just really nice to be in this position.
