Quick Quotes

Q. Here with Robyn Choi after her final round at the ShopRite LPGA Classic. Just looking like a solid week for you. How did this week feel for you?

ROBYN CHOI: I think overall pretty good. I made a lot of up and downs this week. Weather was inconsistent I feel like this week with a lot of rain, wind, one day it was pretty calm.

So I think I just really had to adjust and I think I did that pretty well.

Q. We were just talking, but you also had a top 10 finish in Mexico. What do you feel like is trending in your game right now?

ROBYN CHOI: Just I think after that Mexico tournament I just had a confidence boost just knowing that -- I think it actually came from Utah after shooting the 7-under on the last rounds. That kind of started it and then it kind of trended up until now.

But I think overall just a big confidence boost and I think that's kind of important in golf. So, yeah.

Q. And how would you describe these conditions, especially coming down the stretch in the last three holes?

ROBYN CHOI: The last couple holes were very foggy and started to get really cold and windy, but I think the poana grass on the greens started to come up a little bit so the putts were a little bumpy.

But it is what it is and everyone has the same conditions.

Q. How did you like this course this week? What are some highlights that stick out? And also staying here at the resort, too.

ROBYN CHOI: Yeah, I think staying to the resort was really huge, very convenient. Golf course is right outside our accommodations, which we're really grateful for.

But I mean, overall it was such a great experience and the course itself, it's in good condition for the weather and what it has taken.

Yeah, really enjoyed to this week.
