Q. Okay, Aaron can you talk a little bit about the week, you know, what's going to happen here this week and the excitement around here at Lake Nona?

AARON STEWART: Yeah, absolutely. Back again kicking off the LPGA Tour season here in beautiful sunny Florida. Not exactly warm this week, but back at Lake Nona. Just super excited to be back here. We got a great field this year with the most LPGA players that we've ever had, 39 pros competing this year.

Great group of celebrities as we just saw them in the Break the Glass Challenge. Excited for another great Tournament of the Year.

Q. As we talked earlier, Aaron, the weather across the country has not had an affect on everybody getting here?

AARON STEWART: Yes, so far we've been lucky. I think if you talk with some of the players here they've had a lot of changes to their travel schedule, but so far everybody has been able to make it.

I know that a lot of the journey times were extended quite a bit. I think Joe Pavelski our defending celeb champion was coming down from a Madison and was supposed to have a direct through Chicago, went to Charlotte; another flight in between and got in late last night.

Yeah, fingers cross that had everybody continues to be able to make it here.
