Quick Quotes

Q. How big were the back-to-back birdies on the back nine, in terms of getting the momentum going on the back nine?

JESSICA KORDA: What momentum? Just kidding. No, I mean, it was really slow today. It was tough. The greens are definitely a lot faster than they were the first couple days, so I think it was just hard for me to get really comfortable.

So it was just nice to be able to put a couple birdies in.

Q. Right. And you haven't felt comfortable the last couple times I've talked with you. So you have to feel good about being in the position you're in being this close on a golf course where you don't feel quite as comfortable as you would otherwise?

JESSICA KORDA: I think golfers are good at being comfortable and being uncomfortable. I think that's -- with being in these positions so many times, you just kind of know what you need to stick to. Even if you're not comfortable you stick to the same plan. Even though you're uncomfortable, you still have comfort in your routine.

Q. Right, rolling a couple putts and that's it for today?

JESSICA KORDA: Yeah, rolling a couple putts and we're going home. I'm tired. This was a long day. And it's hot, too.
