Q. Joining me after the third round of the Fortinet Founders Cup is Karis Davidson. Karis, you've had three pretty good rounds out here. You're playing really even in a field it's gone up and down. Can you just talk about what's going well?

KARIS DAVIDSON: Well, I think the biggest thing is love this golf course. I think it's really nice. My driver has been pretty good, which you need to be pretty accurate around here.

And I've been holing a lot of putts, which is nice.

Q. I was going to ask about that. Seems like your putting has been a strength this week. Are the greens tricky or have you found a way to manage it?

KARIS DAVIDSON: I don't know how to answer that. I've just been visualizing them really well and just getting the pace right and just seem to hole a lot of putts.

Q. Is there something specific about this golf course that you really like or that suits your game?

KARIS DAVIDSON: I feel like it's a bit of a draw hitter's course. I usually hit draws, so I would say that's nice.

And then, yeah, I just think it's really pretty. Yeah, really nice.

Q. You got some good reps to start the season in Asia; now back over here for the U.S. swing. Talk about the start of your season, how you're feeling, and if you set any goals for yourself this year.

KARIS DAVIDSON: I mean, yeah, getting into Singapore and Thailand was a bonus. I only got in the Friday before it started, so just to get those points and some games straightway in the season I think helps.

And, yeah, my coach caddied last week in Australia, so I feel like we did some good work there.
