

The Chevron Championship

Sunday, April 27, 2025

The Woodlands, Texas, USA

The Club at Carlton Woods

Nelly Korda

TV

Q. Alongside defending champion Nelly Korda. What a week for you from the very start. Monday hosting the champion's dinner, just being back here with where you made history last year. How would you describe the overall experience this week?

NELLY KORDA: It's been a grind. The start of the week was amazing having all the champions, past champions celebrate and having Chef Keller prepare an amazing meal.

Such an unforgettable moment.

Thursday just wish I could delete that. But, you know, I was walking onto 8 tee at 7-over and I made the weekend so that's something to be very proud of.

Don't have my best stuff right now but grinded through the weekend and hopefully I can continue building on this.

Q. We are awaiting our leaders to make their way down the stretch. What can we expect today?

NELLY KORDA: It's definitely playing very soft, very different from last year, so even though the tee is very far up on 18, I mean, you're going to have a wood into the greens.

Definitely going to be a very exciting finish. I see the leaderboard is pretty stacked. May the odds be ever in their favor.

FastScripts by ASAP Sports