TV Quick Quotes

Q. Stacy, I guess this is good-bye; your final event teeing it up out here on the LPGA Tour. What have you the emotions been like?

STACY LEWIS: You know, I'm so ready to be done and this golf course, it just proves it. It was a big test for me this week.

I'm excited though. I'm ready for what's next and the future. You'll probably see me pop up again in some senior events hopefully in the future.

Yeah, I'm ready for what's next.

Q. We've seen you compete out here as a mom, you're daughter, Chesnee. Why make the decision now?

STACY LEWIS: You know, I was around some older players when they retired and I saw this just happiness in them. They weren't sad anymore. They didn't miss it.

I got to that point early last year where I was just -- didn't want to practice as much and I was just thinking about the end. It made me excited instead of sad.

So that's really what made the decision for me. Of course my daughter being school age, being home is a big thing, too. So a lot of things. But just my brain was ready for it.

Q. To share final day, this experience with your dad on the bag, would you describe today?

STACY LEWIS: It was fun. It was -- my husband actually made that call and I told him he was earning a lot of brownie points. It really all started for us in Palm Springs as an amateur with him on the bag, so just kind of came full circle. He's a couple weeks out of knee surgery, so I'm impressed he made it two rounds.

Q. You achieved so much on golf course. Have been so influential during your time at the LPGA as well. What will you be the most proud of what you have been able to accomplish?

STACY LEWIS: I just think to see where we are financially and what these women are playing for and the venues they're playing on. I think we only could have dreamed of that ten years ago.

It's how far we've come, and I'm excited for the future. I'll be in Craig's ear for a little while making sure he keeps going in the right direction. The talent level is so high right now, so I'm excited to be watching from home.

Q. Thank you for always being generous with your time and allowing us to share your story. We wish you all the best in your next chapter.

STACY LEWIS: Of course. Thank you.
