Quick Quotes

Q. Okay, here with Megan Khang. Just wrapped up the CPKC Women's Open. How would you describe this week?

MEGAN KHANG: I mean, this week is always a fun week. Not just because I won it in the past, because everywhere we go, any part of Canada, the fans truly come and support women's golf. From the golf course to the staff to, again, the fans, this tournament is world class. I've always loved coming back to Canada.

Q. Good day today; bogey on the first but a lot of birdies to finish up, including the last. What did it mean to finish strong today?

MEGAN KHANG: Yeah, it's never a good feeling three-putting the first hole. But after the first there is 17 more to go. I got to play with Jenny yesterday so we were pretty familiar with each other.

You know, we joked a bit. Both birdied No. 8. She hit it a lot closer than me but was able to kind of follow in her footsteps there.

And then just really tried to stay patient. Gave myself some good opportunities coming in. You know, definitely a better ball striking day today. Went to the range yesterday to try to find center club face and found it today.

It was nice to get that momentum for next week obviously being in Massachusetts.

Q. We talked earlier about prepping for this week. You gave yourself a break before this week. What did you see come through with that? You had the break and you got to work a little bit last week. What did you see come through this week?

MEGAN KHANG: I always joke, taking a couple weeks off and coming back out here to play with the best in the world, it's always a little nerve-racking just obviously because some girls coming from previous weeks, but then obviously myself taking two weeks off, it's always nerve-racking, a little exciting.

Even when I kind of faltered a little bit it was nice to be able to get back to even. Although it wasn't climbing up the leaderboard but crawling back to get to level par, it's always a good feeling to stay with it. Teaches me to really stay patient and not get like too flustered out there.

Golf is hard. Mistakes will happen. Just trying to not compound the mistakes and really just, you know, trying to make the best of the day when you're not having your best.

Q. Yeah. And looking like it'll be a Top 10. Like you said, saw some good stuff out there. Going into a busy week next week. What does that mean as well? Maybe you won't have as much time to practice.

MEGAN KHANG: You know, I'm not really going to try to think about how busy I'll be. I'm just going to kind of roll with the punches. Obviously FM is a great sponsor and partner of mine. I'm going to try to do the best I can to be the best I can to be the best ambassador for them and obviously unofficial host.

I think it's going to be really cool. I'm going to kind of soak it all in and take it as a really cool experience to always be playing in front of a home crowd.
