Quick Quotes

Q. All right, here with Ariya after her second round at the Mizuho Americas Open. Just talk about how you felt like you played today.

ARIYA JUTANUGARN: Everything is a bit better. I lost a bit of confidence last few weeks, so after last week I getting a bit better.

So just try to working on my game and like my commitment.

Q. Anything in particular you worked on since last tournament?

ARIYA JUTANUGARN: I think I've been struggle about the outcome, so I want the outcome to be good. So this week I kind of let it go. Just do my thing, in process, and like make sure I have good commitment every shot.

Q. And I'm sure that's tough too with some of the weather and different conditions that come up seems like every tournament now. How do you stay positive? Anything outside of golf you try to focus on?

ARIYA JUTANUGARN: This week the food is amazing, even like at the clubhouse or like in New York. So that thing I enjoy the most.

Q. And what are your thoughts heading into the weekend? Staying on the same mindset?

ARIYA JUTANUGARN: I try to, because I'm really happy about where I am right now because I have so much stuff to work on and just going to keep working on it.
