Q. How would you sum up the week?

COREY CONNERS: Yeah, obviously it's a sour taste in my mouth right now. Not the Sunday I certainly was hoping for. I think, yeah, just didn't get the ball in the hole, didn't score it like I wanted to.

Yeah, tough way to end the event, putting myself in a good spot. But still lots of positives I can take away from the week once I'm able to reflect.

Q. Second to last group on both Saturday and Sunday at the Masters. Does that add a layer of motivation to say, hey, I want to get back to this position pretty soon?

COREY CONNERS: Yeah, for sure. It's a fun position to be in. It's pretty cool out there playing with the atmosphere out here at Augusta National and the biggest tournament in the world. This is where I want to be, and look forward to working hard to try and get back in the mix here again.

Q. You talked at the beginning of the week about how good your game felt. When you Zoom out on a very solid result this week, results-wise, how do you take more of this into the rest of the PGA TOUR season?

COREY CONNERS: Yeah, I think obviously today stings. It's hard to take many positives coming off the course shooting 3-over. But a solid week overall, and I definitely did a lot of things this week that I was happy about and can build off going into the summer.
