Q. Very well played today. Can you summarize your second round for us?

ALMULLA OTHMAN: It was a little bit tougher than it was yesterday. Still hit the ball good and gave myself a lot of opportunities, but didn't make any birdies today, which is not a great thing.

Learned a lot. It was a different kind of pressure today because I felt like I was playing really, really good golf and wanted to keep giving myself opportunities to continue to score well, but things just didn't fall my way today.

I think I'm going to dust myself off and keep working hard. We have got two more events in Saudi to finish the season and keep going.

Q. Amazing. You seem to be getting closer and closer. What are your takeaways?

ALMULLA OTHMAN: I think the game is good enough. I played with a fellow Arab from Morocco, El Hali, and I'm from Morocco, and it's cool to see the level of Arab golf continuing to rise and get better and better.

I thin the big takeaways and we're good enough to be competing on this stage. I think we need to start believing that and continue to put the work in and good things are coming.
