Quick Quotes

Q. Very well played out there. You're one off the lead with obviously lots of players out on course. How would you assess your round?

ANGEL YIN: Angel Yin. It was a solid round. I started out rough. I don't think I made a par until the 5th hole but made lots of birdies, saw a lot of opportunity, left a few out there.

I'll make some changes tomorrow. It's good. It's been solid.

Q. It was seriously windy out there in the two days before the tournament started. The wind this morning has dropped a little. So I guess you thought you could really make a good score this morning.

ANGEL YIN: The morning was windy still, but the back nine, my back nine which is the front nine, died down a little bit. So that was quite nice. Yeah, I think I got a little lucky.

Q. You had a great group. Obviously Carlota, Anne Van Dam, all of you have been hitting the ball a long way. I guess the dynamism and the fun sort of helped you out there as well?

ANGEL YIN: Yeah, we were all right next to each other. I think I need to hit the gym a little bit. I was behind car lot a few times, and I was like, oh, I don't like that.

Q. Obviously it's hard to beat Anne, but you were holding your own out there.

ANGEL YIN: Anne's okay, but I think I need to hit the gym a little bit more.

Q. Finally, what is a good score out there? Obviously, 2-under is a good score from you this morning, but do you think that's going to be good enough to be around the lead come the end of play today?

ANGEL YIN: I think, if the wind picks up, then I think where I am is pretty solid, going to be near the leader. I think the score could go a little lower. It's pretty scorable. The course conditions are good. Anyone that gets hot out there is going to be able to score, considering I made four birdies and shot 2-under still.

There's a lot of birdies out there. If the wind is calm and not too crazy, scores will be a lot lower this afternoon.
