

Aramco Saudi Ladies International Presented by Public Investment Fund

Friday, 18 March, 2022

King Abdullah Economic City, Saudi Arabia
Royal Greens Golf & Country Club

Olivia Cowan

Quick Quotes

Q. I see you shot 2-under par 70 today, which is an improvement from yesterday. How has it been this week in Saudi? Is it a course you enjoy?

OLIVIA COWAN: Yeah, I think yesterday was quite tough playing in that wind, especially the last eight holes for us. So it was a lot easier playing today. I think you had a lot more chances out there to get some birdies.

Q. And it's a course you enjoy?

OLIVIA COWAN: It is a course I enjoy. Didn't have the best last hole yesterday. For some reason I don't think I like that hole. No, I really do enjoy the course. It's in great shape, and it's a fun course to play.

Q. Is there anything you're working on with your game at the moment?

OLIVIA COWAN: No, not at the moment. I think I'm just trying to get ready for tournament golf, to be honest. Not working on anything technical at the moment.

Q. With more than 30 events on the LET this season and almost 30 million in prize money, the Tour seems in good health. How important is that?

OLIVIA COWAN: Yeah, I think the LET is doing a great job to improve the schedule, and Aramco's doing a bit as well. I think it's amazing what events they're putting on and how they're trying to help our Tour. I think it's growing, and it's going in the right direction.

Q. What does your schedule look like now this year now you've got an LPGA card as well?

OLIVIA COWAN: I'm not quite sure at the moment. I think I'll get into quite a few events on the LPGA, but I do still want to play on the LET. So I think I'm going to try and switch between both, but it will be very busy this year, I think.

Q. Given your win in London in the ATS, you must have a good affection for the events. How much of an impact have these Aramco events made to women's golf?

OLIVIA COWAN: Yeah, I love playing the Aramco events. They do a great job with hosting us as well. They make us feel very special every event.

I think it's great to have the team format as well. It's something different than just playing by yourself, playing for yourself every week. So, yeah, I love playing these events.

FastScripts by ASAP Sports

