Quick Quotes

IAN POULTER: I'm much happier with four rounds. I'll let you know tomorrow, but everyone has got to do their bit, right? No one can hide tomorrow, which is good. Everyone needs to perform well tomorrow.

Q. Do you anticipate more volatility with the extra round counting?

IAN POULTER: I would think so because if someone gets off to a bad start, they know they need to hang in there, it's not easy. I definitely think it'll be a bit more volatile.
