TV Quick Quotes

did you enjoy this week?

PAUL CASEY: I think the whole of South Africa should be really, really proud. The hard work that Louis, Charl, Branden and Deano put into bringing this here, then the way it's come to fruition, that doesn't happen without a lot of people but mainly the fans, as well, because they've turned out.

We're standing here, and we could actually say this might be -- this is giving Adelaide a run for its money. This was amazing. What a great golf event. Obviously a dramatic finish. I feel a little bit guilty like we stole it from them, to be honest, at the end. I'm not unhappy because we love to win, but you have to give them so much credit, and those guys did a wonderful job. We're looking forward to coming back. It's already been announced, so we can't wait.

Q. Gents, I'm not sure if you're aware of this, but you were one of the most dominant teams, but with this win, this makes the winningest team on LIV. How does that feel?

CHARLES HOWELL III: That's pretty awesome. Well, we're also the only team that's stayed together for the whole time. We've never split up. It's been us. Just how about the golf there by Bryson again. That was pretty special golf.

Q. There was some incredible drama. At one point you were seven back from the Southern Guards, and we were just having a chat here about how it all played out. Were you leaderboard watching? How aware were you of the situation?

ANIRBAN LAHIRI: I think we were doing what we do best, just taking care of our own business. I only started glancing up with three or four holes to go, and even at that point, Southern Guards were five ahead, so I'm like, okay, I just need to try and make as many birdies for myself and the team as possible.

Paul had a hot finish, I had a hot finish, Bryson of course. So it's nice to end up on the right side.

Q. You had more than a hard finish; you've been 16-under par, as Mr. Casey made me aware, for the last two rounds. I feel like you love this golf course; you've got its number now?

ANIRBAN LAHIRI: Well, it's nice to play good again. I've had a tough start to the season, and to finish with these last two round after this first five stretch feels really good.

Q. Paul, this is the first time LIV has been on the African continent. You've got the win here. How much
