Q. What a back nine that was finishing off with one of the best shots we've seen at the 18th. Fantastic round. You've been trending in the right direction. What's been going well for you over the last month or so?

NATALIYA GUSEVA: Probably my caddie kind of had a lot to do with it. We started with Jeff not a long time ago, since one of the events in Canada, and I mean, we're just doing really great. We're really trending. We're working on lots of things out there.

Just I've been grinding kind of quite a bit in Asia and still kind of tired, but super excited for tomorrow and really going to try to enjoy it.

Q. Yeah, you finished tied for tenth last week in Japan. That's a pretty big time change here in Florida. Looking at the Race to the CME Globe, how much has that been on your mind this week?

NATALIYA GUSEVA: I mean, it's always going to be on your mind. You're trying to make it. I had a pretty good rookie season last year and I made it kind of easily after my Hawai'ian finish.

I feel like I am always trending in fall so I'm trying to do my best here and just trying to enjoy every moment.

But I feel like whenever you don't think about it is whenever you play best, so what Jeff is doing great out there, my caddie, is just taking my mind out of golf and just trying to laugh about some stupid things in a way.

So, yeah.
