Q. All right, solid round today. Safely through to the weekend. How do you feel you played today?

JIN YOUNG KO: Well, I played wasn't good today.

Q. Really?

JIN YOUNG KO: Yeah, my putting -- I had lots of great iron shot from the second. From the tee shot I had a lot a lot of birdie chance, but I missed a lot of putt today.

I back to under par on the back nine, so it's possible to play on the weekend.

So, well, I have two more rounds, so I will do practice for putting after this interview, and I will get something from the putting.

Q. Was it mechanics of your putting or were you struggling to read the greens?

JIN YOUNG KO: I think read the green and speed, because this green is really hilly. Some putts from the bottom to up, very slow, and then when putting up to there it's really fast, so it's a lot of confusing for the speed.

Yeah, it will be fine for tomorrow.

Q. How was the golf course different from yesterday to today?

JIN YOUNG KO: Well, I felt similar. I didn't feel much different course condition as yesterday, so it's fine.

Q. Okay. And you're going to go putt, go get some rest. How do you hope to attack the course this weekend?

JIN YOUNG KO: Well, in 2019 I did a lots of birdie on the weekend, and that whole week I had -- I got a lot of birdies, so I will keep reminding to in 2019 how did I play in 2019. So I will get some good image from that and I will keep that up.
