Q. Okay, Jin Hee, just tell me about the round today, what you did good.

JIN HEE IM: So at the start I start bogey. That's really no good start, but it's meaning I try just mine, but just miss thinking, so that have to know the green speed and like that.

So I'm not nervous to make the bogey and just keep trying to mine, and after the nine hole I make really good shot three holes and easy birdie. And then that make well, so I'm focusing on my golf. That's all.

Q. You played here last year; not so well you said. What were you expecting coming into this year or how did you hope to do better?

JIN HEE IM: So I missed cut last year, but at the practice round and tournaments days wind is different direction, so course management is all change, all different.

So I'm really surprise about that and then not focusing on my golf. So this year my memories, at the practice round think about the wind. Today is into, but how about the downwind. I trying many things and then that make better.

Q. Yeah. Great. You're coming off a really good rookie season. How do you carry that into this year or what are you hoping to bring from last season into this season?

JIN HEE IM: Yeah, last year I play well and I just think about my miss things, or most thing is the course management because that is all first new course for me. So I just think about that, more different management, like wind or something.

So and then I just make my competence of the short putting, and I think swing thing is just make more good seconds. That's all.
