Q. Manon, had a lot going on on the golf course today. We'll get into all the details. First, start with the eagle at 13. Your face lit up when I asked you about it a minute ago. Take me through what happened.

MANON De ROEY: Yeah, that was very exciting. I got a bit off to a slow start, but then I know I can take advantage of the par-5s here so I was really looking forward to 13.

I had a really good drive; then I had 225 meters to the front, 247 to the pin I think. I said, ah, I'm just going to wait just this case I can maybe get to the front.

I hit it and I hit it so good, and it bounced just toward the green and then pin high and then I made a long putt from like...(indiscernible.)

Q. Yeah, you told me you also had a nose bleed during the round. Is that common? Has it happened before?

MANON De ROEY: I think it's just with the heat. From inside the cold air conditioning and outside the heat. I had it a few times in the course in the past.

So I just -- well, I don't know if I should say this, but I just had a tampon in my bag so I put it up.

That's the only thing I had. Yeah, just did that.

Q. You mentioned it was a stressful day. I can understand why now. Was that the biggest challenge or was there another reason?

MANON De ROEY: No, I mean, I feel like -- I mean, I just dealt with the nose bleed there. I felt like a bit stressed the back nine a little bit. I missed a few shots here and there. I put myself in really tough spots, like short-sided in the bunkers which was not so nice.

Then I got it back and made birdie on the eighth, which was nice.
