BROOKE HENDERSON: (In progress) play really tricky, but at the same time, there are a lot of birdie opportunities if you're hitting it really well and have a little bit of course knowledge.

I think the more times we play it all the girls will learn it a little bit better and understand where to hit it to have the best opportunity to make putts.

Today was a really up and down for me, but hopefully just gained some experience and knowledge and bring it into tomorrow.

Q. You kind of got a little gut punch there early with a double on the first hole. From where did you dig and what kind of mental coaching did you have to do to flip things like you did making three birdies in a row?

BROOKE HENDERSON: Yeah, definitely not the start I was looking for there with the double on the first hole. Like you said, rebounded with three birdies in a row quickly afterwards.

I think especially over the last couple months I've been really working on my mindset and trying to stay a little bit more relaxed out there and calm. You know, when things don't go my way, just trying to bounce back quickly. Just trying to be strong and tough competitor, and today paid off and I was able to get it back under par which feels really nice.
