Game 4: Postgame

Oklahoma City Thunder 111, Indiana Pacers 104

Q. What did they do in those final three minutes that made it difficult for you down that stretch there?

ANDREW NEMBHARD: Yeah, we missed some shots down the stretch. Kind of slowed it up, bogged it down and got a little stagnant.

Q. What did they do that made it so difficult to pass the ball and facilitate offense?

ANDREW NEMBHARD: I thought we did a solid job at times throughout the game. I think there was a stretch at the end where we kind of stopped.

Q. How does this one sit with you when you were so close to winning?

ANDREW NEMBHARD: Yeah, a tough one. But the good part about it is in two days we play again.

Q. Is that the mindset with the series tied 2-2?

ANDREW NEMBHARD: Most definitely. Got to move on and excited for the next one.

Q. How was SGA able to eventually break out offensively after you guys did such a good job of containing him most of the game?

ANDREW NEMBHARD: I think we just did our job of being pests, playing hard, trying to mix different guys and just make it as tough as possible on him. He's the MVP.

Q. More than 70 free throws attempted in this game. How do you feel like that broke up the rhythm of the game?

ANDREW NEMBHARD: It definitely changes the rhythm of the game. We probably want to foul less in the future.
