New York Knicks

OG Anunoby

Practice Day

Q. Jalen's numbers offensively obviously haven't been quite up to what's capable of, but he still stepped up and made huge shot after huge shot for you guys in the clutch. As an elite defender yourself, can you speak a little bit to what makes it just so hard to guard him?

OG ANUNOBY: He uses a lot of counters. He's relentless. Doesn't matter if he is missing shots or making shots, he's always the same way, always composed and poised and always aggressive.

Q. Obviously Victor presents a physical player that the league has never seen before. But the strength that you brought to the table and also the connectivity of all of your frontcourt players seems to have been a counter punch so far to that. What version of Wemby are you expecting for Game 3?

OG ANUNOBY: It's usual -- aggressive, talented, relentless. The usual Wemby.

Q. I want to know what you're looking forward to most returning to the Garden for Game 3?

OG ANUNOBY: Just the fans. I know it's going to be crazy. They're always behind us, always rowdy and excited. I know it's just going to be really cool.

Q. Being that level of locked in, can you talk about that?

OG ANUNOBY: It starts in our film, our practice, what we talk about with coaches. Everyone is on the same page, locked in, dialed in, focused on the same goal, and just take it day by day.

Q. Is that something you can feel as you're building on this run?

OG ANUNOBY: Yeah, can you feel it. You can see it. Everyone is just dialed in right now.

Q. The President is going to be in attendance tomorrow. We don't know if he's going to be courtside or in a suite, but how do you think his presence will affect the game play and will it motivate you guys, or how do you think it will affect the game?

OG ANUNOBY: I think he will just be there watching the game. We're just going to go as usual and play our game and try to win the game.

Q. We have seen the last game that there were some leads that the Knicks had, but in the last minute things changed. This might cost you the game. So how are you going to prepare to prevent that from happening?

OG ANUNOBY: Just same as usual. We know basketball is a game of runs. At the end, they went on a run. That's how basketball goes. So just doing the usual, trying to be locked in for 48 minutes. Knowing teams will go on runs, but we're going to go on a run too. So just responding to the run.
