Quick Quotes

Q. 5 points on the day but you're still in contention at the Barracuda. What are your thoughts after two rounds here?

SEAN CROCKER: Yeah, I mean, playing some good golf. Just trying to make more birdies than bogeys. Seems like we're doing a decent job of that so far, but two more days, see how it goes.

Q. How was the golf course today compared to yesterday?

SEAN CROCKER: Similar, a little bit more bouncy. Definitely that afternoon breeze picks up later in the day and it gets a little tricky from time to time, but it's consistent, and you kind of know where it's going so you can play some decent shots and still score in the afternoon.

Q. Yesterday obviously making your PGA TOUR debut, in contention here in California. How pleased are you with that?

SEAN CROCKER: Yeah, it's nice. I'd be lying if I said I wasn't excited to be playing the weekend and have a chance to see what I can do. I've kind of shot myself in the foot a few times by thinking ahead, so I think we're just going to play Saturday and see how it goes and then play Sunday.

Q. Later tee time tomorrow; how valuable is that to get some more rest?

SEAN CROCKER: Be nice. Be nice just to sleep with no alarm and just kind of do what we need, but I'll still probably be up at 5:00 or 6:00 and then not know what to do with myself for the rest of the day.
