Quick Quotes

Q. Looks like right now you're in the top 30. Should that happen, your first trip to East Lake.

RYAN FOX: Yeah. I mean, obviously I would like to have made it a bit easier the last couple of weeks. Obviously being in really good position and just one decent week would have done it. Tee to green I played pretty good for three days this week and couldn't get the ball in the hole. Then played awful today and maybe holed a couple more putts through the middle of the round. So golf doesn't really make a whole lot of sense, to be honest. But I'll watch the coverage this afternoon and hope it all works out in my favor. I think statistically it's a pretty good chance of getting there and, yeah, I'm looking forward to Atlanta. My first trip, hopefully.

Q. How long has that been a goal for you?

RYAN FOX: I mean, I guess ever since getting on TOUR it's the one you want to get to. Last year I gave myself a good chance and didn't play very well in the playoffs either. I wanted to rectify that this year. Again, I done most of the hard work until the last two weeks and then I made it a little harder on myself today, but hopefully it's enough.

Q. It's been a pretty big year of firsts for you, this would be another one.

RYAN FOX: Yeah, yeah. I think I'm still trying to come to terms with what happened five or six weeks ago and everything that comes with it. The little cherry on the top will definitely be getting to TOUR Championship. So hopefully that's the case and if it happens to not go in my favor it's still been a great year regardless. Ticking off a major championship was like a dream come true. So, yeah, it will be a cherry on top next week if I can get into Atlanta and, yeah, everything resets next week and hopefully can find something. If not, I get an extra week off, so it's a win/win, I guess.

Q. Assuming you get in, what will you be working on to get ready for that?

BMW
CHAMPIONSHIP

RYAN FOX: I think the two biggest things is I need to drive it better. I drove it terribly this week. I think from what I understand Atlanta's Bermuda off the fairways, which is not very nice, so need to drive it a lot better than I have done this week. The biggest thing was the putter. I putted awfully the whole week. Hopefully that -- I worked pretty hard on it this week and it didn't work out. Hopefully, I holed a couple today hit a couple nice putts through the middle and so hopefully that's something to take into next week.
