Q. Just talk about another 7-under round and just kind of firing on all cylinders still.

DANIEL BERGER: Yeah, played well today and hit some great golf shots. Just have to make a few more putts. Whenever you're 14-under par through two rounds you've done something right, so I'm in a good position going into the weekend.

Q. You shot low yesterday. We saw a lot of others shoot very low today as well. What was different, just as simple as the wind?

DANIEL BERGER: I think the wind being down obviously was a big factor. But it's tough when you're one of the last guys out and you see a bunch of low scores early. So it's to be expected out here and you just kind of have to stay patient and know that the opportunities are going to come and you have to take advantage when they do.

Q. Outlook for the weekend and overall thoughts on, obviously you're firing on all cylinders?

DANIEL BERGER: Yeah, I'm playing well. It's just a matter of continuing to do the same things, hitting fairways, greens and making a few putts here and there and taking advantage of the par-5s. I think I did that pretty well today and yesterday and just have to continue the same mindset of trying to go low.

Q. The dynamic of the group there, seemed all of a sudden the two of you just started drafting off each other and clearly made a run.

DANIEL BERGER: Yeah, Cameron had a tough start and then he pulled it together on the kind of the end of the back nine. And it's always easy to play with someone when they're making a ton of birdies and you're seeing balls go in the hole and he made every putt he looked at today and I think he's going to be a tough guy to beat this weekend, but it's not impossible.
