Keith Mitchell

Quick Quotes

Q. Keith, you've kind of gotten three different golf courses so far this week. How does that impact your game plan, especially when you guys haven't come and played here before?

KEITH MITCHELL: I think the game plan's the same. It's just the clubs you're hitting and the -- and really where the pins are because the first day was pretty easy, you can attack. Yesterday was pretty tough, hitting a lot of long clubs in.

Today if you had downwind, you had to be really careful with the front pins. Then into the wind, they put a lot on the slope, so you had to really kind of stay away from those.

The game plan is always to try to find the green below the hole, if you can do that. If not, you've just got to kind of take what you can get.

Q. You started with one par in the first five holes or one par in the first six holes. How do you kind of settle yourself when you're making birdies and bogeys both ways?

KEITH MITCHELL: I felt like I was hitting it really well. The greens today were a different speed than they were yesterday. They were a lot faster. The winds and the dry air made them a lot faster. So a couple holes were speed adjustments on 3 and 4. Hit some great shots, though.

Tried to settle in on the back for some pars, but just really grinded it out coming in just to try to not make any bogeys.
