Quick Quotes

Q. So just in general how do you feel about your round today?

MORIYA JUTANUGARN: Well, it's just -- it's not what I wanted to for sure, but I just felt like it's still pretty solid, you know.

It's just like it's out there. It's play tough, you know, and you just have to be patient. Sometime it just like, you know, you hit a good shot; doesn't end up where you want it to.

You hit not very good shot and you just have to try to get up and down. It's just one of these days, like a little bit of, you know, like too much or too short. Just like that.

It's happen. You know, like when you play golf tournament and especially on the tough golf course.

Q. Uh-huh. You had the birdie, too. And the eagle on the back nine. Knowing the course was tough, did you of a game plan for where to attack the course today?

MORIYA JUTANUGARN: Well, it just like, you know, like, I just have to be patient out there and see when I get the right yardage and the right distant for, you know, like -- I mean the right club and the right distant to get a little bit closer.

But a lot of the time I really get like in between clubs and I just like have to like pick one and just sometime it's hard to like get very close.

And also it's really windy today. Like sometime you can't really like get where you want it, which is, you know, it's one of the week because you have to be like a lot of patient.

Q. Yeah. I know you just got of the course of probably haven't processed the entire week. Now that Sunday is, how do you feel about this week?

MORIYA JUTANUGARN: It's great. You know, always great to be back playing U.S. Open. It's nothing we can ask for, right?

It's like everyone know you have to be prepare for this week. Just like everything. Like you have to be out there and I will say it's a little bit more stress than other week but it just, you know, that's why it's U.S. Open.
