

U.S. Women's Open

Thursday, May 29, 2025

Erin Hills, Wisconsin, USA

Erin Hills GC

Chiara Tamburlini

Quick Quotes

Q. What was it like teeing up in your first U.S. Women's Open?

CHIARA TAMBURLINI: I mean, it was pretty cool. Having Zach on the bag was -- I guess definitely calmed my nerves a little bit. I was quite confident from the first tee. Like I was a little nervous at first, but we had a good group too, so I just enjoyed every single little bit of it really.

Q. Opening round 3-ner. What went well for you out there today? What would you say was the strongest part of your game?

CHIARA TAMBURLINI: Honestly I think it was pretty solid through the board. I think that's what you need to play well on a course like this as well. I think you need a pretty all-around game, good tee shots. I think I only missed on fairway. A lot of good approaches. Hit a couple good putts. Yeah, everything was solid.

Q. Conditions-wise what was the prep like for this? How did it differ from other major tournaments you've played in?

CHIARA TAMBURLINI: I mean, I would say I didn't really do anything different in my prep. Of course it was couple more shots around the green that I wanted to hit ahead of time just because there so many huge run-offs.

There than that it was pretty much what I somewhat expected. Like high rough. The fairways are a bit wider that I had expected, so that's quite nice. Yeah, no, I feel like I did some good prep.

FastScripts by ASAP Sports